next meeting
September 14th 2019
David Loehe 10 am
304 Brailsford Place
St Simons

Sept 14th meet at Dave's. He is showing how to make a bowl from a flat board. That should be interesting. Bring a chair. Show and tell. Eat Daves chocolate chip cookies. We had 11 members at Barbs shop for August.

Lets keep in mind that it's common courtesy when we attend a meeting with a demo that we should pay attention. You may not be interested but others are Let's keep ourselves in check.

Dave gave information about the upcoming Glynn Arts Mistletoe Market show Dec 7 & 8th. It will be held on St Simons island, Neptune Park. We as a club would be allowed to do a demo with lathes at the show plus show some of our pieces for sale. This could be what some of the members have wanted. A location to show our pieces and possible sell some of them.

The club would pay the fee for booth space and each person that wanted to show would pay a amount to reimburse the club. Booth cost $ 220.00. So if 4 members wanted to show their wares it would cost each of them about $ 55.00. Thats a good deal.. We would get lots of attention and maybe some sales

We will need to know how many are interested in participating.

Upcoming demo October in Savannah. We need to have a head count. Demo for October 12th at Steve Cook's place in Savannah. Address to follow. 10 am will include demo by Peggy Schmid on boxes. After that a hands on session on the lathes. 7 or so lathes plus any we shall bring along. You can work on anything you like and the demonstrator will be there to assist and advise.

The club will pay for demo and members will be asked to kick in $ 25.00 if you ant the hands on session.. Non members will be charge more $ 35.00??

Need a head count next meeting

Dave brought this up and Barb sent me the complete info. This would be a great show to see. Thru this site you all might want together and drive over to see it.

To: All Georgia Woodturners

By now, you may have received at least one email from your local woodturning club about the Georgia National Fair. This year's Fair, which is held in Perry, will open on October 3 and run through October 13. Last year, nearly 500,000 people attended the Fair.

The Fair includes a number of attractions, including the Fine Arts Building. This building houses exhibits relating to quilting, photography, carving, gourds, woodturning and a number of other areas. Last year, the Fair displayed about 130 woodturned items, which made it one of the biggest woodturning exhibits in Georgia.

There are a number of ways you can participate in the Fair.

1. Submit an entry to be exhibited at the Fair. There is a $10 fee for each entry, but you will be eligible to win cash prizes, bragging rights, and you can also sell your work without paying a commission if you wish to do so. Last year, about $3500 in prizes were awarded for the various woodturned items. These prizes are funded through the entry fees and donations made by the various Georgia woodturning clubs. If you want to submit an entry, you must complete an on-line entry form (with a picture of the item) no later than September 1. You can submit the entry form by clicking this link:

<https://www.georgianationalfair.com/p/georgialiving/finearts> You must then deliver your entry to the Fair on either September 6 or 7. Many clubs consolidate their entries and a "designated driver" delivers them to the Fair.

2. Attend the Fair. If you would like to avoid paying an admission fee, you can sign up to work a 3 hour shift as a docent. It is a relatively easy assignment – you stand in the woodturning exhibit area to answer basic questions, ensure the patrons do not touch the entries and encourage the public to vote for the People's Choice Award. In addition to getting two free admission tickets, you get a preferred parking spot. You can sign up to be a docent by clicking this link:

<https://www.signupgenius.com/index.cfm?go=s.signup&urlid=60b054dafab2aa3fd0-georgia1&view=standard> Many woodturners bring a spouse who tours the other areas of the Fair while the woodturner works as a docent.

3. Volunteer to fund a special prize for the woodturning area. For more information, or to make a Merit or Purchase Award pledge, contact the Georgia Living Department at contests@gnfa.com or (478) 988-6555.

Members in Barb Hahns shop. Demo on platter turning

Barb Hahn demo on platter turning and finishing last week was great.. I had one complaint though... She made it look to easy.

Pretty good for a camera phone to actually catch the wood chips flying. Pc still attached tween centers as she turns down the pc to round

Platter starts to take shape. Notice inside space for chuck to fit when she turns pc around.. Still on screw chuck.

With pc reversed now held by inside jaw on chuck, Barb works the inside of bowl into shape. If you expand this picture you can see the detail she has added to the lip of wood.

Finished piece top and bottom. Please clk to expand and see the detail she has added. Fine work. I failed to show her drizzling the CA glue # 3408 sold by Parsons.. Water proof.

Eddie Wildsmith

Eddie shows of his bug eaten piece covered in epoxy and blue coloring. The end results will be cut out on a C&C machine to be a guitar. Beautiful work there Eddie

Craig Farnsworth

My neighbor told me I should do something with the old heart pine 2x4s so I stripped them into 3/4 by inch pcs, glued and sanded. Then coated 4 times with epoxy. Same stuff Eddie uses. Had to put a 4 the coat un after a damn fly landed on the stuff. His legs are still there along with termite tracks, screw and nail holes. This is 30 x 20 in and will be a counter top over the water heater in our guest house.

Just a word about dust collection,, Just installed a work bend dust collector to bottom of my table saw.. Combined with the overhead dust collector now see hardly any dust escaping. Its a constant battle.

Todd Tetterton

Todd just got back from a John C Campbell folk school in Brasstown, Tennessee. Turned a bunch of platters. Also would like to thank Paul Speich for helping me set up my jointer. Works great

TODD just sent this in. 4 cutting boards,, one end grain geo pattern and 3 face grain Zebra wood

Barb Hahn
Show and tell August meet

So dats all folks. Remember pictures to rumtiger@gmail.com by the 1st of month. And we are looking for demos.

Paul Speich

Paul just finished a pair of humidors. Walnut and Mahogany. Veneered tops. Walnut burl courtesy of Charles Walker

Herb Miles

These two first pieces are Magnolia

Charcuterie Board I mentioned to Herb that this looked like a pc of cheese,,, He says cheese is good, but oak is damn hard to chew.

Laken Jones

Hey y'all, I have a jet jts-10, 1 1/2 hp, good table saw, it's just taking up space in my garage, I use my band saw and CNC for everything. I'll let it go for 100 member price. I would recommend upgrading the fence, the stock fence is not great. Let me know if you want to come have a look. I can send pictures also.
